The Donkey That Knows the Thief

Reading · story part 3 of 3

Name: _____

Date: _____

“Your magic does not work,” Rustam says.

“Show me your hands,” Karim says. “All of you.”

Nine men have black hands. One man has clean hands. He is the cook.

“He does not touch the donkey,” Karim says. “He is afraid. The tail is black tonight, because I put the black pot on it.”

Now the cook is looking at his clean hands. He is telling Rustam about the gold.

Every day the donkey eats his grass. He knows nothing about gold or thieves. But he keeps a secret very well.

WORDS IN THIS PART

gold [gəʊld] — золото
donkey [ˈdɒŋki] — осёл
pot [pɒt] — кастрюля, котелок
clean [kliːn] — чистый
tail [teɪl] — хвост
cook [kʊk] — повар

USEFUL CHUNKS FROM THE STORY

one by one — по одному
keep a secret — хранить секрет

Read it aloud twice. Then close the page and tell the part in 3 sentences. Notice the -s (he works) and the -ing (he is smelling).