The Stone That Fed a Village

Reading · story part 2 of 3

Name: _____

Date: _____

Now the traveller is making a fire. He has a big pot and one small round stone.

“I am making soup from this stone!” he says.

The water is hot now. All the people are watching him.

He tastes the soup. “It is good! But stone soup is better with one onion.”

“I have an onion!” a woman says.

WORDS IN THIS PART

traveller [ˈtrævlə] — путник fire [ˈfaɪə] — костёр, огонь stone [stəʊn] — камень soup [suːp] — суп taste [teɪst] — пробовать на вкус
onion [ˈʌnjən] — лук

Read it aloud twice. Then close the page and tell the part in 3 sentences. Notice the -s (he works) and the -ing (he is smelling).