The Man Who Could See the Future (1)

1

Sardor was a very poor man. There was no food in his house.

“Go to the bazaar!” his wife said. “Tell people you can see the future! Rich men pay a lot of money.”

“But I can’t see the future!” Sardor said.

“Then we are going to be hungry every day. Go!”

2

Sardor walked to the bazaar. The road went along the river.

Look! A brown horse was in the water. It drank. Sardor didn’t stop.

Then he sat in the bazaar. “I can see the future,” he said.

A fat man ran to him. “My horse is lost! Find him! I give you ten coins!”

Sardor closed his eyes. “Your horse is in the river,” he said. “He is drinking water.”

The man found his horse! Soon all the town knew Sardor.

3

But then robbers took the king’s gold.

“Find my gold!” the king said. “Or you lose your head!”

Sardor was very afraid. But his wife had a plan.

“Ask the king for three months. And ask him for good food every evening!”

Meanwhile the robbers sat in their cave. They were afraid too.

“This man is looking for us,” the leader said. “Go and listen to him!”
