1 roof [ruːf] n. — крыша
The top of a house.
→ A young robber was on the roof.

2 listen [ˈlɪsn] v. — слушать
To try to hear something.
→ He listened.

3 plate [pleɪt] n. — тарелка
A flat round thing for food.
→ The wife brought the first plate.

4 cave [keɪv] n. — пещера
A big hole in a hill.
→ He ran back to the cave.

5 leader [ˈliːdə] n. — главарь
The person who tells a group what to do.
→ On the third night the leader was on the roof.

6 lamb [læm] n. — ягнёнок; баранина
A young sheep, or its meat.
→ It was a whole lamb!

7 knock [nɒk] v. — стучать
To hit a door with your hand.
→ Somebody knocked on the door!

8 map [mæp] n. — карта
A drawing that shows where a place is.
→ Here is a map!

9 half [hɑːf] n. — половина
One of two equal parts.
→ He gave Sardor half of the gold.

10 gold [gəʊld] n. — золото
An expensive yellow metal.
→ All the gold was there!

Useful phrases from the story

knock on the door — стучать в дверь
Then somebody knocked on the door!
come back — возвращаться
They never came back.

The Man Who Could See the Future (2)

1

That night Sardor waited for his food. He was very hungry.

But look at the roof! A young robber was there. He listened.

The wife brought the first plate.

“Here is the first one!” Sardor said.

“He knows about me!” the robber said. He ran back to the cave.

2

The next night the second robber was on the roof. He listened too.

The wife brought the second plate. “Here is the second one!” Sardor said.

The second robber ran away!

On the third night the leader was on the roof. He wanted to hear it.

The wife brought a very big plate. It was a whole lamb!

“And here is the biggest one!” Sardor said.

3

Then somebody knocked on the door!

“Don’t open it! We are the robbers. Here is a map. Your gold is in the cave. Don’t tell the king our names!”

Later Sardor and the king went to the cave. All the gold was there!

“You are a clever man!” the king said. He gave Sardor half of the gold.

Now Sardor was a rich man. And the horse in the river? He never told anybody.