In the far north the winter night is very long. The people live in the dark.

This is Malina. She is a good girl. This is her brother. He is not a good boy.

Tonight all the village is at a big party. Malina is washing her hair. Now she is putting on her best clothes.

Now the people are eating. They are dancing. The fire is warm.

2

But look! Now somebody is turning off the lights! It is very dark.

A hand is pulling Malina's hair! It is tearing her clothes!

Malina cannot see him. She is running out of the house.

She is very angry. Forty people are in that house. Who is the bad man? She does not know.

3

Now it is another party. Malina is beautiful tonight. She has white jewels in her hair.

The lights are going off again! A hand is pulling her hair again!

"Give me light!" Malina shouts. Now she can see everybody.

"Show me your hands!" she says. All the hands are clean.

But look at her brother! His hand is black! Black dirt is in Malina's hair!

Now her brother is running away. He has a fire in his hand. Malina is running after him.

They are running up into the sky. Her fire is going out. His fire is big.

Now her brother is the sun. Malina is the moon. He is running after her every day.
