The rule: Possessive pronouns, Whose, and adverbs

my → mine · your → yours · his → his · her → hers · our → ours · their → theirs. It's my jacket. = The jacket is mine.
After my / your / his / her / our / their we write a noun. After mine / yours / hers / ours / theirs there is NO noun: Whose jacket is this? It's mine.
Whose + noun = Whose jacket is it? (question about the owner).
Adverbs tell us HOW we do something. Add -ly to the adjective: slow → slowly · quiet → quietly · happy → happily · careful → carefully. Two are special: good → WELL · fast → FAST. He ran slowly. They played well.

Watch out (we often say…)

~~This is mine jacket.~~	This is my jacket. / This jacket is mine.
~~Whose are these trainers? They're her.~~	They're hers.
~~He played good.~~	He played well.
~~She ran quick.~~	She ran quickly. (but fast: He ran fast.)
