Grammar explained

Name _____

1 · The passive (present simple) Class Book p. 108

THE BIG IDEA

Use the passive when we don't know, or don't care, who does the action. We make it with is / are + the past participle. It is also used for things that are generally true.

Страдательный залог: важно действие, а не кто его делает. is / are + третья форма глагола (past participle): English is spoken in many countries.

How to make the sentence

1. Find the thing that matters: English.
2. Choose is (one thing) or are (many things).
3. Add the past participle: spoken, made, kept, used, sold, grown.
4. Add who does it with by only if it is important: Visitors are greeted by people in costumes.

The pattern

Positive	subject · is / are · past participle	Computers are used all over the world.	Компьютеры используются по всему миру.

2 · Passive and active (with by) Class Book p. 109

THE BIG IDEA

Use the passive when the object of the active sentence is more important than the subject. Use by to say who or what does the action.

Активная фраза → пассивная: объект становится подлежащим, глагол — is / are + past participle, а «кто делает» — после by.

How to make the sentence

1. Write the active sentence: People in costumes greet visitors.
2. Take the object (visitors) and put it first: Visitors ...

Омонимы: одинаково пишутся, но значат разное. Какое значение — понятно из предложения.

How to make the sentence

1. Read the whole sentence, not one word.
2. Ask: is it a noun (a thing) or a verb (an action)?
3. Use the dictionary: one word can have two or more entries.
4. Learn the pair together: stamp (noun) = марка · stamp (verb) = топать.
