1 · The passive (past simple) Class Book p. 116

THE BIG IDEA

Use the past simple passive for things that were done in the past when we focus on what happened, not on who did it. It is was / were + the past participle.

How to make the sentence

1. Find the thing that matters: The shopping.
2. Choose was (one) or were (many).
3. Add the past participle: done, made, painted, invented, taken.
4. Add by + who, if you need it: The shopping was done by my new machine.
