He must be a doctor

Who Are They?

Look at the photo. It was taken in a hospital corridor. The man in the middle is wearing a white coat and holding a stethoscope, so he must be a doctor. He looks tired, so he must be working a long shift.

The woman next to him is holding a camera, but she can't be a photographer: she's wearing a white coat too and a badge. She might be a nurse or a student who is practicing. We can't be sure.

And who is the boy behind them? He is very young, so he can't be a surgeon! He might be the doctor's son who came with some lunch. A good detective always looks for clues, and a good doctor does the same.
