Our City Over the Years

My grandfather has lived in Tashkent since 1975. He has seen a lot of changes over the years. “When I came here,” he says, “there were only a few tall buildings. Now there are hundreds.”

The population has increased a lot since then, and so has the traffic. The metro has become bigger and the center has expanded. “But some things have stayed the same,” he says. “I have bought bread in the same bakery for forty years.”

I have lived here for fifteen years, and I think the city has changed even faster lately. New parks have appeared and the old market has become modern. How long have you lived in your city, and what has changed?
