My Online Life

I use the internet every day. This week I have watched three videos, read two blogs and listened to one podcast. This morning I have already checked my news feed twice.

Last year I started my own blog about soccer. I posted my first article in March and 200 people read it in two days. Since then I have written thirty articles and I have gained a lot of subscribers.

But the internet isn't always trustworthy. Last month I read a story about a famous player, and I shared it with my friends. Later I discovered that it was fake news. Now I always check the source before I share anything. Have you ever believed fake news?

WORD HELP

blog — блог
news feed — лента новостей trustworthy — заслуживающий доверия fake — поддельный
podcast — подкаст
subscriber — подписчик
channel — канал

Read it aloud two times. Then close the page and tell your partner three things you remember.
