Murphy red, Unit 28 (page 67): 28.3 at home. Do the grammar file first.

1 Warm-up: talk before you write (5 minutes, in pairs)

1. If you could go anywhere for a weekend, where would you go: the forest, the sea, the mountains?
2. Who are you going to take with you? Why?
3. What are you going to take? What will you not need?
4. What are you going to do there during the day? And in the evening?
5. What do you think the weather will be like?
6. What problems might you have? What will you do?
7. What are you most looking forward to?
8. What do you think you will remember in ten years?

Choose one topic and tell it to your partner. The partner asks one more question for each of the first 3 answers.

2 Useful words

4 · Conclusion	What are you looking forward to?

Model and your task

Day 2 · Writing

What to do: In the model: going to for plans, will for offers and predictions.

A Weekend in the Forest

Next Friday my friends and I are going to spend a weekend in the forest near Chimgan. Four of us are going: Ali, Dilnoza, Karim and I. We have already made the decision about the place, and we are going to leave at seven in the morning.

We are going to take two tents, a lot of water, some bread and cheese, and a map. Karim is going to cook dinner on the fire, and I will make the conversation interesting: I will tell funny stories. Dilnoza says she will bring her guitar.

I think the weather will be good, but the nights might be cold, so we will take warm sleeping bags. If we get lost, we will use the compass.

I am looking forward to this trip because we will spend two days without our phones. I am sure we will remember it for a long time.

A Choose ONE: my dream trip

Write 120–150 words. Follow the plan. Use going to at least 4 times, will at least 3 times, might once, and 4 words from Unit 11.

B Or: an invitation message

Write 80–100 words. Hi ..., We are going to... Would you like to come? We will... Please bring... Tell me soon!

Check before you finish
