Unit 8 · How much / how many · lots of · some / any

Name _____

THE BIG IDEA

How many goes with things we can count. How much goes with things we cannot count. Some is for yes-sentences, any for questions and no-sentences.

How many — то, что можно посчитать. How much — то, что нельзя. Some — в утверждениях, any — в вопросах и отрицаниях.

How we build it

WHICH	PATTERN	EXAMPLE	РУССКИЙ
Count it	how MANY + plural noun	How many suitcases do you have?	Сколько у тебя чемоданов?
Can't count it	how MUCH + uncountable noun	How much money do you have?	Сколько у тебя денег?
Lots of	with both	We have lots of time and lots of coins.	У нас много времени.
Some	in yes-sentences	We have some magazines.
Any	in questions and negatives	Do you have any newspapers? We don't have any.	У вас есть газеты?

When we use it

Ask a number: How many passengers are there?
Спросить число.

Ask an amount: How much time do we have?
Спросить количество.

Say there is none: We don't have any soap.
Сказать, что нет.

REMEMBER

Can you count it? yes → many (pencils) · no → much (money, time, luggage). ? or not → any. Yes-sentence → some.

RUSSIAN AND ENGLISH

In Russian «сколько?» is one word. In English: how MANY (things you count) or how MUCH (things you do not count). Also «есть» = DO you have ...?

Watch out! We often say...

~~How much pencils do you have?~~	How many pencils do you have?
~~I don't have many money.~~	I don't have much money.
~~Do you have some soap?~~	Do you have any soap?
~~We don't have some magazines.~~	We don't have any magazines.

EASY TRICK

Can I put a number before it (3 coins)? Yes → many. No (money, time, luggage) → much. American: Do you have ...?
