The rule: Object pronouns and relative pronouns (who / which)

Subject → object: I → ME · you → YOU · he → HIM · she → HER · it → IT · we → US · they → THEM. The object pronoun comes AFTER the verb or a preposition: Please help me. I can see him. Pour it in the blender. Chop them up.
Why use them? To avoid repeating the noun: Can you get some milk? Then pour IT in the blender. (it = milk)
WHO joins two sentences about PEOPLE: This is the boy who didn't put the lid on. WHICH joins two sentences about THINGS: This is the smoothie which was in the blender.
who / which replace he / she / it / they, so do NOT say it twice: This is the boy who he made the smoothie. ✗

Watch out (we often say…)

~~Please help I.~~	Please help me.
~~I can see he.~~	I can see him.
~~Chop the strawberries and pour they in.~~	Chop the strawberries and pour them in.
~~This is the boy which made the smoothie.~~	This is the boy who made the smoothie.
